

Dvořák Stabat Mater

Saturday 28 March, 7.30pm
Halifax Minster

Anthony Gray - conductor
National Festival Orchestra

Dvořák's Stabat Mater is a deeply moving choral gem, filled with soaring melodies and heartfelt emotion. Written in response to personal tragedy, this powerful work captures both sorrow and hope, weaving rich harmonies with orchestral beauty.

Join HCS as we bring this profound music to life, delivering an unforgettable evening of reflection and inspiration. Stabat Mater will be paired with Dvořák's rousing Psalm 149, perfectly complimenting the delicacy of his master work.

Matthew Coleridge - conductor
Anthony Gray - conductor
Yorkshire Symphony Orchestra

Our final concert of the season sees us joined by the voices of our Come and Sing participants, led by composer and conductor Matthew Coleridge, to present his beautiful new work, The Breath of Life.

We are also thrilled to present a new piece by our director, Anthony Gray, alongside Finzi's Eclogue for Piano and Strings, featuring our accompanist, Philip Voldman. With much-loved HCS classics, this unforgettable musical farewell to the year is not to be missed!
